ELEVENTH YEAR

AGGIES PULL CRIMSON COLORS IN THE MUD. 21 TO 0

UNIVERSITY TEAM LOOSE THE ANNUAL THANKSGIVING GAME

Tetzel's Eleven Make High Score Against the Visitors. Farmers Show Superior Skill and Win the Game on Merit. Peterson and Brossard Are the Stars.

The result of the Thanksgiving football game between the University of Utah and the Utah Aggies, was a great victory for the Logan team, the result of the game being 21 to 0. There was no time during the progress of the game that the local team did not show superior skill and outplayed the visitors in every department.

The defense of the Salt Lake team was ripped wide open by the battering ram line plunges of the human thunderbolt Peterson, who played full back for the Aggies, and after the Utah line had been battered, bruised and beaten for twenty minutes of play, the ball was pushed over the goal line for the first touchdown.

Then Utah harkened to the pleas of the 1500 rooters who had accompanied the team. For a few minutes the Utah line and backfield showed a flash of brilliancy. Then Price, the left tackle for the Aggies, intercepted a Utah forward pass on the Aggies 20 yard line and made a spectacular run of 80 yards for the second touchdown of the game. What little fighting spirit had been instilled into the wearers of the Red disappeared when six more points were chalked up against them. A field goal against the wind from the toe of Jones added three points and the game was virtually over, when Peterson, the giant skinned the Utah end for 15 yards and the last touch down of the game.

Superior Team Won
The Aggies won the game by superior playing, being in superior condition. The interference of the Aggies was the best exhibition of team work seen in Utah this year. There was no chance for the crumpled defense of the Red to break it up until the ball had been advanced the required distance. Coach Clayton Tetzel had taught his players the rudiments of the game, and if Lawrence had been half as fast a quarter back as Sutherland the university would have gone down to defeat by six touchdowns.

E. Brossard, the Aggies left half went around the Utah ends for gain after gain and through the line whenever the required distance was needed. He outplayed McIntyre at every stage of the game, either with the wind or against it and the great work which he did as captain of the Aggies had a whole lot to do with the score. His brother H. Brossard at right half was in the game all the time.

The defensive game put up by the Aggies took away the breath of the invading eleven. Pre-eminently stands out the name of Green, right tackle for the Aggies. Green could not make the Salt Lake High school team, so it was sad, but the manner in which he piled up the plays of Utah smashed its interference and tackled its runner was a sight for sore football eyes. He was the rock on which the Aggies defense was built and how well it was built is testified by the chances Utah had for scoring. Only twice, and that thru penalties, did Utah ever see the goal line. Both times incomplete forward passes for long distances resulted in touchbacks and the university boys were never even dangerous. Hamilton attempted field goals twice but the ball went wide of the mark and to the side of the field.

Aggies Fought Always
The Aggies were aggressive. Fight the kind of fight that wins football games, had been instilled into the Aggies and they fought from the first kickoff until time was called at the end of the game. Their over anxiety to give Utah the trimming of a life time caused many penalties to be imposed upon the Aggies, and during the game the Aggies lost 55 yards more on penalties than Utah gained by football. The officials listened to the Utah protests against the use of hands on the part of the Aggies, but the infractions of the rules were not intentional. It was fight coming out and the condition of the two teams at the end of the game was one of the greatest contrasts ever seen in a football field.

Utah, fighting for time, fearing that another touchdown was impending delayed the game, was slow in getting started and went at their work in a half hearted manner. The Aggies were stronger at the finish than at the start and if the rainstorm which started at the end of the third quarter had held off until after the game the Aggies would have scored at least two more touchdowns on Utah. The field became slippery and 'Projectile' Peterson and 'Torpedo' E. Brossard could not get in their fancy work.

A description of the game would mean a repetition of the names of the Aggie players and Sutherland, Summers and McIntyre. The yardage gained was too one sided for comparison. The lineup was as follows:

| UTAH | AGGIES |
|------------------|-------------|
| Summer | Jones |
| McIntyre | Price |
| Naylor | Griffin |
| Briggs | Owens |
| Brockmeyer | Snow |
| Barker | Green |

| Gardner | E. Brossard |
| Travers | Peterson |
| Hamilton | H. Brossard |
| Sutherland | Lawrenson |

THREE YEARS IN STATE PRISON

Kimball and Sheffield Will Appeal Their Case To the Supreme Court

Judge J. D. Call sentenced Roy Kimball and Robert Sheffield to an indeterminate term in the state prison, not to exceed three years, yesterday afternoon, after an argument had been made by the attorneys for the defendants for a new trial. The motion was denied for the new trial and $5000 bond, each was required by the judge, pending the filing of papers for a hearing before and ruling by the supreme court. Kimball and Sheffield were both found guilty last week by a jury of a statutory offense. Judge Call said, in passing sentence, that it was one of the hardest things he had ever had to do, was to pass sentence on citizens to serve time in the state prison, but it was his duty to protect the American home and to see that justice is meted out to violators of the law, not so much as a punishment for those found guilty, but as a warning to others.

INDIANS ARE GIVEN CHANCE TO SUBMIT

General Hugh L. Scott Holds Pow-wow With Chief of Recalcitrants

Farmington, N. M., Nov. 27.—An Indian runner today arrived here with the first news of the movement of the Twelfth cavalry, acting as escort for General Hugh L. Scott, ordered to the Navajo Indian reservation ten days ago to subdue an incipient uprising. General Scott, accompanied by only an Indian interpreter, today left Noel trading post, at the foot of Beautiful mountain, the Indian stronghold for a pow-wow with the Navajo chiefs. General Scott left his cavalry and escort fifteen miles away, proceeding on horseback to the top of the mountain. The outcome of his conference will decide whether the Indians will surrender without a fight. General Scott is not expected to rejoin the troops before tomorrow.

The overland trip of the troops from Gallup to Shiprock, 100 miles was a tedious one, requiring six days. Heavy rains had made the roads almost impassable for the wagon train. The troops are now encamped at a strategic point within five hours march of Beautiful mountain. They have a mountain battery and three rapid fire guns.

Should Chief Be Sho She, with whom General Scott conferred today spurn overtures of peace, then the troops will move against the Indians immediately. Many Indians are reported to have joined the band of recalcitrants on Beautiful mountain with in the past several days.
